Hallmark of Harmony
is a championship
winning Barbershop Chorus based right here in Sheffield.

At Hallmark of Harmony, our number one priority is to have fun and we want other people to share in that experience. That's why we run this free Learn to Sing course every year, giving males ranging from school age to those in retirement the opportunity to give our special style of singing a go.

The course comprises one session per week, for six weeks and is led by our world-class coaching team. It is designed to accommodate different ability levels and is flexible enough to allow you to move at a pace that suits you.

As reported in The Independent, sharing of videos on social media has convinced record numbers of men to take up barbershop, with repertoires now including covers of modern songs in addition to traditional ones.

"Don't be afraid to give it a try! I certainly never thought I'd be a barbershop harmony singer and I didn't have a musical background before I started. It's great fun and something a bit different and quirky too." – Joe Wright, 2016 course student
